 - Executive;
 - Administrative;
 - Professional; or
 - Outside Sales capacity.
- Certain computer employees may be exempt professionals under Section 13(a)(1) or exempt under Section 13(a)(17) of the FLSA.

Three Tests for Exemption

- Salary Level
- Salary Basis
- Job Duties

New Overtime Rule Overview

- March 2014 - Presidential Memorandum
- July 2015 – Notice of Proposed Rulemaking
- May 23, 2016 – Final Rule Published
- December 1, 2016 – Final Rule Effective Date

New Overtime Rule Changes

- Salary Level Increases
- Nondiscretionary Bonuses
- Automatic Updates

New Overtime Rule
Standard Salary Level and Highly Compensated Employees

- Standard salary level - pursuant to 29 CFR 541.600

Current	Effective 12/1/2016
$455	$913 per week
- Highly Compensated Employee (HCE) - pursuant to 29 CFR 541.601

Current	Effective 12/1/2016
$100,000	$134,004 per annum

Minimum Salary Level: $913

- For most employees, the minimum salary level required for exemption is $913 per week
- Must be paid "free and clear"
- The $913 per week may be paid in equivalent amounts for periods longer than one week:
 - Biweekly: $1,826
 - Semimonthly: $1,978.16
 - Monthly: $3,956.33

Nondiscretionary Bonuses

- Nondiscretionary bonuses and incentive payments (including commissions) are forms of compensation promised in advance to employees (e.g., bonuses for meeting set production goals, retention bonuses, and commission payments based on a fixed formula).
- May be used to satisfy up to 10% of the standard salary level.
 - Minimum of 90% (approx. $822) of standard salary level must be paid as a weekly salary.
- Payments must be paid on a quarterly or more frequent basis.

Catch-up Payments

- If an employee does not earn enough from the nondiscretionary bonus, commission, or incentive payments in a given quarter to meet the standard salary level – an employer may make a “catch-up” payment within one pay period of the end of the quarter.
- Any such “catch-up” payment will count only toward the prior quarter’s salary amount and not toward the salary amount in the quarter in which it is paid.

Customarily and Regularly

- A frequency that must be greater than occasional but which, of course, may be less than constant
- Includes work normally and recurrently performed every workweek
- Does not include isolated or one-time tasks

Automatic Updates

- Every three years beginning January 1, 2020, the standard salary and annual compensation levels will be automatically updated.
- At least 150 days before the effective date, the Secretary will publish a notice in the Federal Register of the updated salary and total annual compensation amounts that will be required.

Updating the Standard Salary Level

Standard salary level – updated to equal the 40th percentile of weekly earnings of full-time salaried workers in the lowest-wage Census Region.

Salary Basis Test

- Regularly receives a predetermined amount of compensation each pay period (on a weekly or less frequent basis)
- The compensation cannot be reduced because of variations in the quality or quantity of the work performed
- Need not be paid for any workweek when no work is performed

Deductions From Salary

- An employee is not paid on a salary basis if deductions from the predetermined salary are made for absences occasioned by the employer or by the operating requirements of the businesses
- If the employee is ready, willing and able to work, deductions may not be made for time when work is not available

Permitted Salary Deductions

- Seven exceptions from the “no pay-docking” rule:
 1. Absence from work for one or more full days for personal reasons, other than sickness or disability
 2. Absence from work for one or more full days due to sickness or disability if deductions made under a bona fide plan, policy or practice of providing wage replacement benefits for these types of absences
 3. To offset any amounts received as payment for jury fees, witness fees, or military pay

Permitted Salary Deductions

- Seven exceptions from the “no pay-docking” rule:
 4. Penalties imposed in good faith for violating safety rules of “major significance”
 5. Unpaid disciplinary suspension of one or more full days imposed in good faith for violations of workplace conduct rules
 6. Proportionate part of an employee’s full salary may be paid for time actually worked in the first and last weeks of employment
 7. Unpaid leave taken pursuant to the Family and Medical Leave Act

Additional Compensation

- An employer may provide compensation in addition to the $913 minimum guaranteed weekly salary, such as:
 - Commissions
 - Bonuses
 - Additional pay based on hours worked beyond the normal workweek

Hourly, Daily or Shift Basis

- The regulations also allow an employee's earnings to be computed on an hourly, daily or shift basis, if the employer:
 - Guarantees at least $913 per week paid on a salary basis, regardless of the number of hours, days of shifts worked; and
 - A reasonable relationship exists between the guaranteed amount and the amount actually earned

Reasonable Relationship

- "Reasonable relationship" means the weekly guarantee is roughly equivalent to the employee's usual earnings at the assigned hourly, daily or shift rate for the employee's normal scheduled workweek
- For example, an exempt employee guaranteed at least $950 per week and who normally works four or five shifts each week, may be paid $350 per shift without violating the salary basis requirement

Fee Basis

- Administrative and professional employees also may be paid on a "fee basis"
- An employee is paid on a "fee basis" if the employee is paid an agreed sum for completing a single job, regardless of the time required to complete the work
- Payment on a "fee basis" is not available for a series of non-unique jobs repeated an indefinite number of times for which payment on an identical basis is made over and over again

Fee Basis

- A fee payment meets the minimum salary level required for exemption if, based on the time worked to complete the job, the fee is at a rate that would amount to at least $913 per week if the employee worked 40 hours
- Example:
 - An artist is paid $500 to paint a portrait that took 20 hours to complete, the equivalent of $25 per hour
 - Because working 40 hours at this $25 per hour rate would yield the artist $1,000, the fee payment meets the salary requirements for exemption

No Salary Requirements

- The salary level and salary basis tests do not apply to:
 - Outside Sales Employees
 - Doctors
 - Lawyers
 - Teachers
 - Certain computer-related occupations paid at least $27.63 per hour

Executive Duties

- Primary duty is management of the enterprise or of a customarily recognized department or subdivision;
- Customarily and regularly directs the work of two or more other employees; and
- Authority to hire or fire other employees or whose suggestions and recommendations as to hiring, firing, advancement, promotion or other change of status of other employees are given particular weight.

Primary Duty

- The principal, main, major or most important duty that the employee performs.
- Factors to consider include, but are not limited to:
 - Relative importance of the exempt duties;
 - Amount of time spent performing exempt work;
 - Relative freedom from direct supervision; and
 - Relationship between the employee's salary and the wages paid to other employees for the same kind of nonexempt work.

Primary Duty

- Employees who spend more than 50% of their time performing exempt work will generally satisfy the primary duty requirement
- However, the regulations do not require that exempt employees spend more than 50% of time performing exempt work

- Setting and adjusting pay and work hours
- Maintaining production or sales records
- Appraising employee productivity and efficiency

Customarily and Regularly

- A frequency that must be greater than occasional but which, of course, may be less than constant
- Includes work normally and recurrently performed every workweek
- Does not include isolated or one-time tasks

Particular Weight

- Factors include, but are not limited to:
 - Whether it is part of the employee's job duties to make suggestions and recommendations
 - The frequency with which suggestions and recommendations are made or requested
 - The frequency with which the employee's suggestions and recommendations are relied upon

Particular Weight

- Suggestions and recommendations may be reviewed by a higher level manager
- The exempt executive need not have authority to make the ultimate decision
- Making an occasional suggestion regarding a change in status of a co-worker does not meet the "particular weight" standard

Concurrent Duties

- Concurrent performance of exempt and nonexempt work does not automatically disqualify an employee from exemption
- Exempt executives generally decide when to perform nonexempt duties and remain responsible for the success or failure of business operations
- Nonexempt employees generally are directed by a supervisor to perform the exempt work or perform the exempt work for defined time periods

Administrative Duties

- Whose primary duty is the performance of office or non-manual work directly related to the management or general business operations of the employer or the employer's customers; and

 - Whether the employee has authority to formulate, affect, interpret, or implement management policies or operating practices

Human Resources

Learned Professional

- The employee's primary duty must be the performance of work requiring advanced knowledge
- In a field of science or learning
- Customarily acquired by a prolonged course of specialized intellectual instruction

Advanced Knowledge

- Predominantly intellectual in character
- Includes work requiring the consistent exercise of discretion and judgment
- The advanced knowledge is generally used to analyze, interpret or make deductions from varying facts or circumstances

Prolonged Course of Specialized Intellectual Instruction

- The learned professional exemption is not available for occupations that may be performed with:
 - Only the general knowledge acquired by an academic degree in any field
 - Knowledge acquired through an apprenticeship
 - Training in the performance of routine mental, manual, mechanical or physical processes
- The exemption also does not apply to occupations in which most employees acquire skill by experience

Creative Professional Duties

- The employee's primary duty must be the performance of work requiring invention, imagination, originality or talent in a recognized field of artistic or creative endeavor
